I am happy to know that Loyola school Kathalguri is going to publish its annual school magazine. It is the mirror of the creative writings on various subjects of the students and staff. It is the reflection of the hard work of the school team.

Loyola School Kathalguri is run by the Society of Jesus also known as Jesuits, a religious organization of the Catholic Church, founded by St. Ignatius of Loyola (Spain) in 1540. The aim and objective of the school is quality education with all round development and character building. The motto of the school is "A Fire that kindles other Fire." It inspires all to become a good human being in service for others. It is reaching out to all section of people irrespective of cast, creed, culture or tribe, especially in the rural areas, among the economically, socially disadvantage people. Since its inception it has been working relentlessly in spreading the light of knowledge with its dedicated team of faculty members. I thank and congratulate the writers and editorial team for bringing out the much-awaited school magazine. I hope it will inspire more budding writers. From the Desk of Principal...

It is with great pleasure and a deep sense of fulfilment that I present this edition of our Annual School Magazine. This publication stands as a meaningful reflection of the life, spirit, and progress of Loyola School, Kathalguri. It captures not only the academic accomplishments of our students but also their creativity, imagination, and the values that shape their educational journey.

At Loyola, we believe that education is a holistic process—one that nurtures the mind, enriches the heart, and strengthens the character of every child entrusted to our care. This academic year has been a testament to our collective commitment to providing an environment where students are encouraged to explore beyond the classroom, participate actively in various initiatives, and grow into responsible citizens, compassionate and confident individuals.

The pages of this magazine highlight the diverse talents and perspectives of our students. Whether through essays, poems, artwork, or reports on school activities, each contribution reflects dedication and enthusiasm. I am particularly heartened to see how our students have embraced opportunities to learn, lead, and collaborate. Their achievements, both big and small, remind us of the limitless potential within each young mind.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to our devoted teachers who continue to inspire and guide our students with patience and passion. Their efforts extend far beyond academic instruction—they mentor, encourage, and motivate our learners to strive for excellence in all that they do. I also extend my heartfelt appreciation to the parents and guardians whose constant support strengthens our mission and vision.

A special word of acknowledgment goes to the editorial team, headed by Fr. Amit Juel Lakra S.J., whose meticulous work and creative energy have made this magazine a reality. Their dedication ensures that the voices and talents of our students are beautifully showcased.

As we move forward, let us continue to uphold the values of the Jesuit tradition—discipline, service, integrity, and a commitment to the greater good. May Loyola School, Kathalguri remain a place where young minds are enlightened, young hearts are shaped with compassion, and young dreams find their wings.

With warm regards and best wishes,

Fr. Gulshan Kujur S.J.
Principal
Loyola School, Kathalguri

From the Desk of Headmistress...

Every child is a precious gift of GOD, entrusted to us to be nurtured and guided so that they can reach their fullest potential. Each child carries a spark within — the spark of curiosity, hope, and dreams. Education helps that spark grow into a bright flame, but it shines only when we feed it with hard work and perseverance.

Life will not always be easy; there will be times of struggle and doubt. Yet it is in those very moments that your strength and character are truly shaped. No struggle comes without a merit attached to it.

I want each of you to remember that no effort is ever wasted. Every page you read, every lesson you learn, and every challenge you overcome brings you one step closer to your best self. Let your education not just fill your mind, but also shape your heart — with kindness, honesty, and respect for others.

In our society, we have long valued sincerity and compassion. Let us continue to carry those values proudly, even as we reach for new knowledge and opportunities. Together, through patience, perseverance, and moral strength, we can build a future that makes our school and our community proud.

Best Wishes!

From the Desk of Vice-Principal....

It gives me an immense pleasure to note that the Loyola School, Kathalguri is bringing out the Annual Magazine. "Learning is a continuous process from the minute we are born, until we die."

Loyola School provides a platform for every student to develop his or her learning skills through magazine. As you scan through the pages, it will enlighten you with the important milestones that the school has achieved this year.

Besides, our budding talents have expressed their thoughts, ideas, hopes, feelings, aspirations and convictions in a creative way. I feel extremely happy to speak to you through this Magazine, as a Vice-Principal in bringing out the annual School magazine for the academic year 2025-26. Publishing a magazine is indeed a tedious and herculean task. In recent years, when our students are concerned more about their academic excellence, they have to be coaxed, persuaded and encouraged to exhibit their writing talents. The response of the students in contributing articles to the magazines was really overwhelming. The student's articles contributed for the school magazine has shown their intellectual insight and their excellent command on language.

I take this opportunity to thank God Almighty for his benevolence, generous blessings showered upon our institution through various people and events. I would like to express my sincere thanks to Fr. Gulshan Kujur S.J., the Principal who always guides, gives confidence, inspires and supports me in all that I do. I extend my gratitude to all the staff members for their constant amicable support in Bringing out this Annual Magazine and very specially towards the institution. Finally I want to thank all the students and the Staff of Loyola School for their contribution and important role they play in the School to take the School to a greater height as per the Motto, “ A FIRE THAT KINDLES OTHER FIRES.” It calls the students to set all things alight with love of God. It invites the students to strive constantly towards achieving perfection in all spheres of life in order to honor love and serve God and people.

With warmest regards!
